STANISLAUS GRIDIRON REPAIRED

To Be One of Best on The Mississippi Gulf Coast—Being Used For Soft Ball Night Games

When the football season opens at St. Stanislaus in the latter part of September, the College will present to the public one of the best, if not the best, playing fields on the Gulf Coast.

Since school closed the field has been plowed, harrowed, and leveled. Bermuda grass has been planted not only on the central playing field, but also extending several yards from side-lines and from the goal posts.

Brother Casimir, Athletic Director, Harry "Wop" Glover, Coach, and the Sideline Club have all been active in working upon the field. Through the good offices of "Push" Gex, Grady Perkins and "Red" Favre the State Engineers who are working upon the Short-Cut gave their Sunday to fix the stakes for leveling. The county tractor had done such good work with the leveling that little corrections had to be made. In fact, it was found that Coach Glover had missed two sections by a mere four inches, that is, one section was four too low, and the other four too high. The switch in soil has given St. Stanislaus one of the best looking fields it has had in years.

To make sure that sufficient drainage would be had, "Shorty" West, ground-keeper, at Loyola University spent two days inspecting and leveling the center of the field to secure the necessary incline. The recent rains have demonstrated that a game could be played within a couple of hours after the hardest kind of down-pour.

The seed grass was planted all in one day. The work necessitated staying upon the field well into the hours of the following day, as Mr. West had another appointment in Kansas. As the field was very dry when the planting took place for several nights Brother Casimir and Coach Glover led a crowd out to the field to do some necessary sprinkling.

Coach Glover would like to have everyone to take a look at the field, also that all those who go out to the Soft-ball games to be careful about using the sidelines with their automobiles. One party last week ran his car down the middle of the new field. Perhaps, this was an oversight due to the darkness of the field, but to cover up the furrows required several hours that could have been spent in more useful work.

J. A. BUSINESS GAINS ARE REFLECTED IN TIRE BUYING

Nation-Wide Improvement Seen in Greatest Seasonal Wave Evidenced in Recent Years

Nation-wide improvement in business conditions is being reflected in the greatest seasonal buying wave of passenger car tires in recent years, according to Mr. E. J. Arceneaux, local Goodyear dealer, who cites some interesting statistics on which he bases the reasons for his statement.

"That the country's buying power is greatly enhanced is disclosed by the fact that business is showing steady improvement, Mr. Arceneaux said.

"Construction contracts indicate a tremendous increase over last year's 79 per cent; retail sales reveal a 14 per cent increase; manufacturing payrolls are 15 per cent higher than 1935 level and manufacturing employment is up. People very definitely have more money.

"In addition to summer and vacation trips that always stimulate tire buying," continued Mr. Arceneaux, "is the fact that more sales of new cars mean more sales of used cars on which a safety-conscious public demands tire protection in the form of good tires.

ESTEEMED CITIZEN PASSES ON

Native of New Orleans But A Resident of Bay St. Louis 50 Years—Aged 80 Years.

John Edward Hale, 80 years of age, a native of New Orleans but a resident of Bay St. Louis for the past 50 years, died at his home in Carroll avenue, this city, Friday, July 13, 10:00 p. m., following a long illness.

Mr. Hale was the son of Thomas Hale, of Ireland, who was one of the first men to inaugurate trade between New Orleans and Mexico. He was engaged in the tobacco business in New Orleans for many years.

Mr. Hale is survived by his widow, the former Margaret Surget Hunter of Natchez; one son, Jack Hale; a brother, Thomas P. Hale, both of Bay St. Louis and a sister, Mrs. J. P. Hale of San Francisco.

The deepest sympathy is felt for Mrs. Hale in the death of her beloved husband. Mr. Hale was a man of integrity, sterling worth and upright character, one whose word was his bond. He was a gentleman in the true sense of the word and his passing has been that of one whose silent influence was felt by many.

This is the third bereavement Mrs. Hale has suffered in a short space of time. Her sister, Miss Zaidie Hunter, and then her sister, Mrs. Adrienne Hunter Nelson and now this last crushing blow.

Surviving old timers can recall the beginning of the romance of Margaret Hunter, a beauty and acknowledged belle of New Orleans and the Coast and dashing and handsome Edward Hale just out of college and much sought after socially. Every one was interested in the pretty romance and when it culminated in their marriage they were showered with blessings and good wishes. It was a marriage of true love, which endured to the end.

SOFT BALL LEAGUE REACHES HALF WAY MARK SUCCESSFULLY

Teams Fighting Hard For Top Positions—Municipal Band Furnishes Music For Games

The Soft Ball League has just about reached its half way mark, and now the teams are fighting hard for position in the home stretch. Friday night found the Mobile Express pass up the Mid-City Stars just as they would pass up a hitchhiker. As a matter of fact Vincent Morreale's men did not even slow up for the Stars; but took them in stride to the tune of 14 to 2. The Stars could only get 4 hits off Cotton Collier; while the Expressmen gathered 13 from Gilbert. It looks like the Mobile Express will be the team to best in this league.

The Clerks went out with blood in their eyes, and that probably explains why they could not see the curves of Walter Gex, Jr., so the Shell Oil still marches on. With the spark plugs of their machine working nicely, due to some real practice, they were too much for the Clerks and gave them a trimming to the score of 12 to 5. The Clerks were off that night and could only get (7) hits while the Shell made their 11 hits count for 12 runs. It will be a difficult job to dislodge the Shell from first position, for they are getting better with each game. Practice makes perfect, and the Shell believes in practice.

Monday night, July 13th was another night for the Mid-City Stars. They bowed to the Commissioners 10 to 5. The Mid-City Stars outthrew the Commissioners 7 to 4, but in this game the runs count, and the Commissioners scored 10 runs to 5 for the Stars. The Stars are getting better and we expect to see them break into the win column real soon; and when they do it will be just too bad for some team in the league.

The second game Monday night was between the K. Cs. and the Clerks. The Clerks were on edge that night and really showed that they have a good club, coming out on the long end of a 10 to 16 score. Nolan Lader was the individual star of the game, getting two doubles and a single out of three times up. Charlie Carter has a strange record for this game; he was up 4 times, walked four times and scored four runs.

This was really an unlucky 13th for the Clerks, for the game will be played over. Due to an unintentional error, the Clerks did not have four men over 30 years of age on the playing field. Manager John Scardie of the K. Cs. called the attention of Manager Geo. Toca to this fact, and like good sports they will play the game again at some future date. The Clerks showed themselves to be wonderful sports, willing and anxious to abide by the rules of the league. We congratulate Manager Toca and his teammates, for this spirit will help the game along.

Coming Games

Friday night—July 17, the fans will see the best game of the season when the Racketeers take on the Mobile Express. Miss your supper, but don't miss that game.

The same night the Cedra Point Stars will try to throw the Shell Oil out of first place.

Monday—July 20th, the Knights of Columbus will take on the Mid-City Stars, and in the second game the Commissioners will have the game of their lives trying to whip the Mobile Express. This game promises to be a thriller.

Brother From African Mission Spends Few Days at St. Stanislaus

Brother Camillus, one of a band of four brothers who left the United States in 1931 for the mission of Gulu in upper Uganda, has spent the last few days at St. Stanislaus before proceeding to Mobile, Ala., for his Retreat.

Brother Camillus taught in New Orleans for six years before he was assigned to the African Mission. On July 23, 1931, he set sail from New York with his three companions and landed at Mombasa on the East African coast on August 21. They then proceeded inland 800 miles through Kenya Colony into Uganda. He was stationed at Gulu, a settlement just 2 1/2 degrees north of the Equator, with an altitude of 3500 feet.

Brother Camillus taught in what is called a Middle School. The natives who enter this school must have completed four years of schooling in their native language. Students who finish this Middle School have a fair knowledge of English and Arithmetic and generally secure positions in the government offices and hospitals as clerks.

Gulu has a white population of 28, of whom 22 are attached to the mission. Of these four are the American brothers. The others are members of an Italian religious order. The natives belong to the Acholi tribe and are fairly intelligent.

Brother Camillus returned to the U. S. last October due to poor health. The climate, poor food and the hard work of mission life quickly undermined the strongest constitutions. Malaria is the dread disease of the tropics. Upon his return he was sent to Montreal, Canada, where he recovered his strength rapidly.

Among the thrills of mission life with which Bro. Camillus entertains his conferees at the college are stories of snakes and lizards which frequently invaded the house, the roaring of lions at night, crossing the Nile river in a fragile home-made ferry and chasing wild elephants from the garden at night—all of which goes to make life worth living, if not at all times pleasant.

Bro. Camillus said that in spite of all the difficulties he liked the mission life very well and hopes to return in the near future.

Boy Scout Camp at Slidell Crowded For Two-Week Period

The Boy Scout camp at Slidell, La., which is operated by the New Orleans Council and attended by scouts of the Coast section, is crowded to capacity for the two weeks' period beginning this week, Coast Scout leaders who entered boys in the camp reported.

By early afternoon on Monday every cabin on the reservation was filled and the leaders were placing extra cots in the cabins to take care of the overflow. The camp has a capacity of about 160 normally, and with the leaders provides for about 200.

There are about five boys from Bay St. Louis, 16 from Gulfport district, 14 from Biloxi and 1 from Pass Christian.

The Biloxi boys were driven to camp by Frank E. Bowes, Walter E. White, John Dacey and E. P. Wilkes.

Small Crop Loans In Hancock County Amount To $865.00

The number and amount of small crop loans which have been granted to Mississippi farmers this year has just been made public by Dennis Murphree, State Director of the National Emergency Council, based upon a report received from the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office in Jackson.

According to this report, Hancock county producers secured 22 loans for a total of $865.00 to assist them in the production and harvesting of their crops and for feed for livestock. In 1935 there were 38 loans made involving $2,191.

"The fact that only about sixty per cent as many of these loans have been made in Mississippi this year as in 1935 indicates a greatly improved agricultural situation throughout the state," Mr. Murphree said, pointing out that fewer loans were applied for this year in every county but two. One county, where sixty-two such loans were made last year, had not obtained any in 1936, and has a repayment record of 99.92 per cent of 1935 advances.

Director Murphree said that for the state as a whole the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office made 19,672 loans in 1935 amounting to $1,062,207, as compared with 11,894 loans in 1936 aggregating $530,280. Slightly over ninety-three per cent of the 1935 loans had been repaid at the end of May.

Emergency crop and feed loans are made only to applicants who are unable to procure credit from other sources. If a farmer has adequate security, he is eligible to receive credit for production purposes from local production-credit associations created under the Farm Credit Act of 1933.

Three eye witnesses were called traveling at a speed of about 75 and all testified that the cars were miles per hour.

Alan Brown was the driver of the car in which Miss Bohn was killed and Breland had parked the truck on the highway, which the car struck.

MONTH REVIEW SPEAKER

Mrs. L. L. Ihrie Entertains Club With Talk Pertaining to Guidance and Placement Service At Newcomb College

At the July meeting of the Review of the Month Club, held in the Library on July 14, Mrs. L. L. Ihrie spoke on the vocational guidance and placement service at Newcomb College. Aside from the interest of the subject alone, Mrs. Ihrie's talk was thoughtfully planned and cleverly delivered. It was thoroughly enjoyed by all those who had braved the heat to attend the meeting.

Mrs. J. B. Goldman was the reviewer of the month; and she chose for her subject, "Around The World in Eleven Years," by Patricia, Richard and John Abbe. These three children, on leisurely "Grand Tour" with their parents, kept a diary in which some unexpected and even startling things are recorded, at the expense of their unsuspecting parents and other grown-ups of their acquaintance. Mrs. Goldman made a delightful and amusing summary of an exceedingly humorous record.

Considerable controversy has already arisen over the authenticity of this book. It is stated in the foreword that the volume is as it came from the children's pencil. Many reviewers, however, have claimed that the humor and viewpoint are entirely too adult for children of that age, and that the book must have been edited. If there is any doubt, we feel inclined to give the children the benefit of it. We have known many of the sort of children who start to grow up in hotels and steamships. Until the ripe age of nine of thereabout, we were one of them. In a settled community, a visitor may be bursting with gossip, but at the warning of "Little Pitchers!" will keep silent until the children have obeyed the command to "Run out and play." But hotel gossip—and where is there more gossip than in a cosmopolitan hotel?—seldom notice the silent little brats playing dominoes under the piano or tightrope-walking along the gallery railing. The children, forced by circumstance to do most of their playing and talking with grown-ups in two or more languages, have very big ears indeed; and are apt to repeat something they have heard, not because they understand it, but because Major Smith threw the other three at the recordable into roars of laughter by recounting it. Also, such children develop old friendships. In one year we chummed with a jirickisha man, a troupe of geisha, the Abbot of a great Shinto temple, the coxswain of the Admiral's barge, and the slayer, the bone of contention, and the victim in the Port's most notorious murder. We had liked the victim on first acquaintance, but we did not regret his untimely demise. He had loudly scolded our favorite waiter because the tartar sauce was too sour.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bartlett Allison Dies At Her Home, Friday, July 10.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bartlett Allison, wife of Alexander Allison, died Friday, July 10th at 10:30 p. m. at her home 614 North Beach Boulevard, aged 82 years.

Mrs. Allison's health had been failing for several months and her death was not unexpected. She was greatly beloved for her sweet Christian character. She is survived by her husband and three sons: Alexander Allison, Jr., of New Orleans; Will Allison, of Meridian, Miss.; and Rev. Andrew Allison, Presbyterian Missionary to China.

Funeral services were held from the residence, Saturday at 4 p. m. Rev. J. E. Gray, pastor of the Methodist church officiating. Interment at Cedar Rest Cemetery.

Pall bearers were, D. B. H. Chaffe, H. C. Doize, C. C. McDonald, J. B. Driver, C. J. Mitchell, J. B. Goldman, E. S. Drake, and Dr. J. A. Evans.

Mrs. Allison was beloved by all who knew her and the passing away of this lovely woman removes from this community one of the best and most esteemed citizens.

CONGRATULATING MISS JACOBS

LOCAL tennis enthusiasts and other sport fans in general feel that congratulations are due Miss Helen Jacobs, who early this month, succeeded in winning the woman's tennis title at Wimbledon.

For ten years Miss Jacobs has sought the British championship and on four earlier occasions, she reached the finals, only to see the crown slip away.

Overshadowed in this country for years by the spectacular playing of Helen Wills, now Mrs. Moody, Miss Jacobs has steadfastly stuck to the courts, conducting herself in the best traditions of amateur athletics and giving an exhibition of dogged determination that deserves success.

Meanwhile, just ahead of her is another clash with Mrs. Moody, when the two come together for the American championship. Both of the players are so typical of American gameness and such sterling court performers that we can only wish them both well, and may the best lady win.

WILD LIFE

ACCORDING to the Jackson Daily News, the ornithologists say that all shooting of water fowl should cease during 1936-37.

Worse than that.

When the Mississippi legislature is convened in special session, it should promptly pass a law, without debate, forbidding the shooting or capturing of all forms of wild life.

That includes squirrels, rabbits, coons, possums, quail, ducks, geese, deer, bear—any creature that flies the air or earns a hard living down here below.

Such a law, of course, could not be successfully enforced. Not enough game wardens in the state to do so.

Still, it is worth passing.

Wild life in Mississippi, and throughout the nation, has been hit hard by the drought.

Birds and animals sit in the shade and pant hard for breath.

Church members, as a rule, are not worried by what the rest of the world says about religion.

VACATION TIME

The lure of travel is irresistible. The paths are many. Those of us who can afford it should go somewhere to see and learn. Traveling is educational, regardless of where your itinerary might take you. The desire to go to some foreign country appeals to many, but there is lots to see right here in our own country.

If your time is short and cash limited the Mississippi Gulf Coast offers numerous advantages to vacationists. Four of the finest golf courses are located on the Gulf Coast, ideal hotel accommodations available, fishing, bathing, tennis and numerous other sports await you.

Capitalize on your spare time. Go somewhere.

Business rivals do not necessarily have to be personal enemies even if our forefathers thought so.

BE CAREFUL

MORE than four hundred and fifty fatalities were reported as a result of the July 4th observance. Probably a good many more were unreported.

Of the deaths reported one hundred and forty-nine were the result of traffic accidents, seventy-six resulted from drowning and various other accidents accounted for the balance.

The American people will have to practice being more careful. Accidental deaths continue to take an unnecessary toll of human life.

A rolling stone may gather no moss, but you seldom see a bill collector about to gather the long green by sitting still.

Work hard and you will finally finish what you are trying to do. Wondering whether you can accomplish the task will never get you anywhere or anything.

The Jackson Daily News' comment on Conner is: "He might be a better man if he did a little more associating around with golfers, poker players, and occasional drinkers."

Jerome Dean, baseball pitcher, says: "All the Babe (Ruth) has to worry about now is golf and fishing and hot dogs, until the hunting season opens, and if you can beat that for a swell way to live I must be crazy." There are a lot of Bay St. Louis people who think the same as Dean.

NO RADIO ADVERTISING

IN the United States radio programs are made possible by private enterprise which meets expenses from revenue derived from the sale of advertising values over the air. The large broadcasting chains give some "sustaining" programs, meaning that they are not in connection with any advertising, but the greater part of the program is in connection with revenue from advertising.

In Great Britain it is different. Direct advertising and sponsored programs will be strictly forbidden for another ten years, according to the British Broadcasting Corporation. The Government also agreed that it would take all possible steps to prevent the broadcast of advertising programs by foreign stations intended to reach the British public. Instead of revenue from advertising broadcasting in Great Britain is supported by a moderate tax paid by the owner of each radio receiving set.

Never having heard British broadcasting programs, to any degree, we are not in a position to pass upon the comparative advantages of the two methods. It would, perhaps, be unwise for a newspaper, which also sells advertising to take any part in seeking to inspire any change in our American method. While one hears some criticism occasionally of the advertising on the air we rather think the American public would rather have free entertainment for the rest of the time than pay to escape the merchandise propaganda. Radio programs in this country are, we believe, very good. Advertisers trying to attract an audience vie with each other in an effort to make their programs appealing.

New jokes are hard to find in print, but, like suckers, one is born every minute.

THE VOTERS' RESPONSIBILITY

THE people of the United States are about to engage in their most responsible duty, the selection of a President of the United States for four years.

The Chief Executive of a nation the size of the United States has a tremendous responsibility and powers that, at times, are staggering. The man who holds the high office should be a great man, a patriot and a wise servant of the people.

The two parties have held their conventions, written their platforms and named their candidates. It is now up to the people to study the issues, understand the situation and select the best man. It is our faith in democracy that makes us believe they will be equal to the task and we say this regardless of whether the people of the nation select Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Landon.

There will be subtle efforts during the campaign to divert the public from some issues and strenuous efforts to appeal to blind partisanship, selfishness and sectional prejudices. Some of these attempts will come from each side. It is up to the average voter to see through subterfuges, look behind curtains and understand what is going on.

The success of the American system of government is predicted upon the belief that the voters, as a mass, are able to comprehend the issues in a campaign and that, unswayed by greed but moved by lofty patriotism, they will be able to select the best man for the presidency. Let us hope that the year 1936 will demonstrate the truth of this assumption.

CONSTITUTIONS NEVER SACRED

THE sanctity of the Constitution has largely passed out of the political scene, thanks to Gov. Landon's declaration for an amendment if necessary to secure social legislation and President Roosevelt's statement that our problems can be solved within the framework of the historic document.

It becomes fitting therefore to call attention to the fact that the Constitution is not now, never was and never should be, sacred. The ideals which it espouses and toward which it moved may be sacred to many people but the possibility always exists that the methods necessary to achieve the desired end may vary with the development of the ages.

For illustration, let us cite the growth of monopoly in this country. Inasmuch as both parties have declared against monopolies it is apparent that they exist and nobody denies that they have been protected, at times, by the Constitution of the United States. The fact is that corporations have been held entitled to the guarantees of the Constitution although obviously they are not persons in the sense that voters are persons. Yet, they have been given Constitutional status, as it might be called, and claim the protection of the beneficial classes of a document designed primarily to safeguard human rights.

MISSISSIPPI GULF COAST

WITHIN the past week more than 2000 persons have died from causes attributed to the hot weather and drownings for a period of the torrid wave, with heat deaths by far the most numerous—and it is remarkable that none of the fatalities have occurred in the Deep South.

There is no mistake about it being hot down here on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, but there is enough humidity in the atmosphere to make life bearable.

While other sections are reporting temperatures as high as 113, the nation's peak, the temperature on the coast has had a maximum of 89 degrees.

Monday of this week, due to local rains the temperature dropped to the 70 mark.

The weather of the past several days has been unusual, of course, but it has served to attract the attention of the nation—and to emphasize the fact that the Mississippi Gulf Coast has the finest climate of any section of the country, coupled with outdoor sports, such as bathing, boating, fishing, golf and other entertainment, which all go to make life worth living.

INTERESTING NEWS ITEMS OF THE MOVIES AND FILM FOLK IN HOLLYWOOD

PRACTICALLY all of the headliners in the movies are heavily insured by their studios. Norma Shearer, Eddie Cantor, Miriam Hopkins and Clark Gable are worth $1,000,000 to their companies in case of death.

When Oliver Hardy was only 13 years old he weighed 173 pounds. He now weighs about 283.

Michael Farmer is in Hollywood. It is rumored that he is there for two reasons—first, to enter the movies, and second, to contest with Gloria Swanson for the custody of their daughter, Michele.

Tom Brown recently designed a pull-over leather jacket that brought forth so much admiring comment that he has started manufacturing them.

Ruby Keeler gave up the lead in "Let's Pretend" to take a vacation with her husband. She and Al Jolson are planning a trip to New York. Patricia Ellis has been given the part Miss Keeler was to have had. The leading man will be James Melton and he has taken off fifteen pounds since playing in his last picture.

A number of the stars have made their greatest hits when they were being loaned out. Clark Gable admits he was slipping at the box office until he was borrowed to make "It Happened One Night." This different kind of role gave him the opportunity he needed and he made the most of it.

More Federal Taxes Collected In State

Washington, July 10.—Federal taxes collected in Mississippi for the fiscal year ended June 30, exclusive of agricultural adjustment taxes, totaled $2,374,699, as compared with total collections of $1,895,628 for 1935.

A sharp falling off in agricultural adjustment taxes was shown, with a total of $236,965 collected for 1936 compared with the 1935 total of $619,172. Liquor tax collections also fell off from $92,679 in 1935 to $78,406 in 1936.

Other classes of taxes showed substantial increases, with receipts from corporation income taxes totaling $828,729 this year compared with $585,706 a year ago; individual income taxes totaling $768,544 against $516,128 a year ago, and excess profits taxes totaling $32,344 against $18,552 a year ago.

BESIDE THE BAY

How oft I sat beside the wave,
The waters of the Bay;
My hopes into its heart I gave,
And now I'm far away.
How oft I wandered on the sand,
Gazing far out to sea;
My thoughts strayed out to spirit's hand,
Weaving sweet dreams for me.
How oft I stood in silent night,
Silver on water's breast;
What visions in the moonbeams bright,
Singing my heart to rest.
How oft my heart was turned to day,
In sunshine's golden glance;
How oft I watched the waves at play,
In whistling wind's mad dance.
But now the waters roll so far,
Taken away from me;
All that is left is memory's star,
And hopes dear Bay to see.

TWO WOMEN PASS AWAY
(Jackson (Miss.) Daily News)
TWO of Mississippi's best beloved women passed away within a few hours of each other—Mrs. B. W. Griffith and Mrs. Minnie Dameron.

Frail bodies given back to Mother Earth today.

Both lived far beyond the allotted span of human life.

Wonderful women! Glorious Women! Christian gentlewomen!

The best blood of the Old South flowed in their feeble veins.

They lived long and blessed the land in which they dwelt.

Memories of those two women will linger long and lovingly.

They will sleep sweetly in the city of the dead.

Put no tall mountains above the bodies of Mrs. B. W. Griffith and Mrs. Minnie Dameron. They do not need them.

Mrs. B. W. Griffith was the mother of our esteemed citizen, Mr. D. C. Griffith of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

TWO QUESTIONS

(Jackson (Miss.) Daily News)

CRY-BABY Conner, before this campaign is over, you must answer, face to face, this question:

Do you approve of the repeated attacks of Bilbo, your Crying Companion, on Judge Edwin Holmes?

You have dodged that issue thus far. You can't dodge it much longer.

By the way, Cry Baby Conner, why didn't you file with the Secretary of State a list of donors to that $10,000 "personal gift," alleged to have been handed to you after you left the Governor's office?

market will be at hand and it will not be necessary for us to transport our products long distances.

And if anything ever comes of it Dixie will develop and Dixie will grow beyond anything possible for the North, for we have natural assets far greater than those to be found elsewhere.

These may not carry him past the century mark—millions of people in this country hope that they will, but if they do not, they have already proven their worth.

The rules are very simple ones—the poor man can observe them just as successfully as can the rich. These rules as revealed by his closest friends are:

1. Never lose interest in life, business and the outside world.

2. Eat sparingly and at regular hours.

3. Take plenty of exercise, but not too much.

4. Get plenty of sleep.

5. Never allow yourself to become annoyed.

6. Set a daily schedule of life and keep to it.

7. Get a lot of sunlight.

8. Drink as much milk as will agree with you.

9. Obey your doctor and consult him often.

10. Don't "overdo" things.

NOT SO WARM IN THE DEEP SOUTH.

(Daily (West Point) Times Leader)

WITHIN the past week more than 300 persons have died from causes attributed to the hot weather—and it is remarkable that none of the fatalities have occurred in the Deep South.

It is not down here. There is no mistake about that. But there is enough humidity in the atmosphere to make life bearable—not to mention the fact that residents of the South are accustomed to warm weather, and feel the heat less on this account.

It was almost as warm in Omaha and St. Louis, and it was 102 at Kansas City.

And the West and the South had nothing on the East. New York sweltered in a temperature of 101 and it was even hotter in Philadelphia and Washington.

Down at New Orleans the highest temperature was 90, and it was even lower on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, where the maximum was only 89.

The weather of the past several days has been unusual, of course, but it has served to attract the attention of the nation—and to emphasize the fact that the Deep South has the finest climate of any section of the country.

Bilbo Helps Conner

THE much-heralded participation of Senator Bilbo in the Harrison-Conner battle has assumed definite form with the announcement of the junior senator that he will take the stump for Conner next Monday. His first speech will be in Pointdexter Park, Jackson, and his second will be at Corinth Tuesday night. His schedule after the Corinth speech has not been completed, but it is understood that he will remain active through the remaining weeks of the campaign, making several speeches a week as he did in the gubernatorial contest last summer. With the advent of Bilbo to the firing line, the capital expects the campaign to take on some of the heat that has been predicted for several weeks.

Campaign Money Slow

Candidates for office in Mississippi apparently are faced with a very serious economic depression all their own, if reports of contributions filed with the secretary of state under the new corrupt practices act may be taken as an accurate indication of the condition of campaign treasuries. Up to the filing of the last report a few days ago, for example, both candidates for United States senator had received less than $7,500 for their "war chests." Of the total sum reported, the Harrison campaign had the best of it. The senator's report showed contributions of a little more than $4,000, while the Conner report showed about $3,000. Contributions to the congressional candidates have been correspondingly slim, it is understood, and "the boys" are faced with the prospect of having to work for the votes they get instead of hiring somebody to work for them.

Texas Honors Us

The Lone Star State of Texas is planning a royal welcome to several thousand Mississippians who are expected to visit the centennial in Dallas on October 24, officially designated by Governor James V. Allred as "Mississippi Day" at the exposition. State College plays T. C. U. in Dallas on that day and other events will feature the observance of the day. Governor White and his staff and a group of state officials will lead Mississippi's delegation to the centennial and a royal welcome will greet them in Dallas.

"Repeat Sales Tax"

Just about as predicted by friends of the retail sales tax last winter, foes of the tax have commenced lambasting it because of the inconvenience occasioned by the use of the tokens put into effect on July 1. The cry for repeal is heard first from Northeast Mississippi, where Tupelo's Editor Price caused a "stir" by demanding repeal of the sales tax on the ground that it has served its purpose—to get Mississippi out of the "red." To the editor's attack, Governor White, who voluntarily assumed the role of defender of the sales tax, said, in effect "O. K., mister; show us a better way to raise the revenue we must have and we'll gladly junk the sales tax." Incidentally the retail sales tax supplies about 40 per cent of the state's general fund revenue.

Pays Its Way

Senator Stewart Watson of Lexington, chairman of the gas tax investigating committee, declares that the committee is paying its own way in the probe by digging up enough old tax bills and collecting them to pay the cost of the probe, now five months old. Every day or two, some operator "antes" up the tax on a car or so of gasoline on which no tax has been paid previously. To date, Senator Watson declares, the committee has actually shown a "net profit" on its operations—turning in more "new money" than it has spent from its appropriation.

FLYING

The Bureau of Air Commerce reports a new record for the number of passengers flown on schedule air lines during one month. During May, 96,368 passengers were carried by the air lines.

"K. M. B." TRAIN TO LEAVE JACKSON MONDAY, JULY 20TH.

Largest Personnel, Best Exhibits, Most Informative, Valuable Route in History of Train.

The latter, if not the former portion of the familiar nursery rhyme may be truly applied to the personnel of the "Know Mississippi Better" Train which begins its twelfth annual tour on July 20, for in addition to the remembered "Doctor, Lawyer, Merchant, Chief," there are officials of city, county, state and national government, newspapermen, manufacturers, bankers, planters, teachers and students.

Altogether, 148 loyal Mississippians and former Mississippians now temporarily exiled to such distant cities as New Orleans, Dallas and Washington, will comprise the party. To provide suitable accommodations and carry out the general purpose of the trip—which is to advertise Mississippi at home and abroad—will require the longest pullman special in the world, namely seven pullman cars, two dining cars, one lounge car, one observation car, and one exhibit car.

The party will depart from Jackson at 1 o'clock P. M. July 20, with stops for passengers at Canton, Durant, Winona, and Grenada. At Memphis at 6 o'clock P. M. its personnel will be given a banquet on the roof garden of the Peabody Hotel.

"I am more delighted with the 1936 'Know Mississippi Better' train in all its aspects," stated former Governor Dennis Murphree who has been general chairman of the movement since its inception. "The personnel is the largest, the exhibit the best, and the route the most informative and valuable of all these twelve years of effort to tell the world of Mississippi's opportunities and resources."

GOVERNOR WHITE DEFERS SESSION CALL PAST AUG. PRIMARY

Calling of a proposed session Monday of the legislature was deferred by Governor Hugh White until after the August 25 primary election.

It was the first definite announcement by the chief executive that the session will not be held during August, or before the election.

The announcement was interpreted to indicate that the call for the session will now come sometime in September.

The governor prepared to attend a joint session during the afternoon between the state note commission and the state highway commission at which suggested changes in the bill authorizing highway program bonds will be discussed.

These changes, in the form of amendments, are to be submitted by the governor to the special session when it convenes. The amendments are described as of a clarifying nature, including a more comprehensive definition of gasoline.

The proposed program for the balancing of agriculture and industry is to be presented to the legislators also.

FOOD PRICES

Retail food prices, on June 16th, had risen to the highest level since April, 1931, according to Bureau of Labor statistics. The composite index was 83.8 per cent of the 1923-25 average, bringing food costs 2.8 per cent, above the corresponding level of last year. Increases in the prices of fresh fruits, vegetables, butter and eggs were the principal contributing factors, it is said.

STATE FARMERS ARE CHEERED BY RISING PRICES, GOOD CROPS

Cotton Passes 13-Cent Mark. Statewide Rains do Maximum Good, and Best Year in Prospect

A financial outlook of Mississippi farmers even brighter than prospects of a week ago occasioned by remarkable crop improvement and considerably advanced prices, is foreseen in an agricultural summary released by J. C. Holton, commissioner of agriculture.

A needed rainfall which has recently extended to nearly all sections of Mississippi is credited with such an improvement in crops generally as seldom experienced in the past. Most of the corn in the state, subsequent check-ups have revealed, was in a state of development to best benefit by abundant rainfall, and cotton, though somewhat retarded, has recovered lost ground. In addition to customary crops, some think like a million and a half acres of corn land interplanted with beans and peas this year, are now reported as in a most flourishing condition.

"Meanwhile, drought conditions which have reached serious proportions in many sections of the country, supported by increased consumer demand and improved economic conditions in America and throughout the world, are responsible for the gratifying improvement in price. On the Chicago market two months ago, No. 3 red wheat was quoted at 95-3-4 cents per bushel, and on July 10, $1.40. No. 2 white corn was 69-3-4 cents per bushel two months ago, and is now $1.00; No. 2 oats, 30 cents per bushel two months ago, is now 42 cents. Soybeans for crushing purposes increased from 85 cents per bushel to $1.16 July cottonseed meal, Memphis market, $20.65 per ton two months ago, was quoted July 10 at $31.25. The average price of middling 7-8 cotton on the 10 designated spot markets on May 9 was 11.55 cents per pound, and on July 10, 13.42 cents.

"The future price trend will depend upon weather conditions to extent, but improved conditions throughout the world—a good grain shortage, diminished surplus stocks in all principle commodities, but healthier demand—all are reassuring. "There is abundant reason for rejoicing in Mississippi. Yet, the feed situation is such as to occasion serious thought. Mississippi is a deficit state and has not in a long time produced enough feed. What we do not produce we must buy, and an attractive cotton price will benefit but little if it must be immediately re-expended for high priced feed and food. There is still time for planting corn, sorghum, sudan grass, cow peas, sagrains, and the mower may be the most valuable implement on the farm a little later on."

Drought may cause Roosevelt to revise work-relief program.

Swimming is conducted under the supervision of experts at the scout camps throughout the nation. Non-swimmers are taught in shallow water and usually they have become proficient in swimming before leaving camp. Last summer 16,290 scouts were taught to swim in council camps alone, bringing the total in the past twelve years to 216,038 taught in council summer camps.

Scout camp leaders are men selected from colleges and universities who have had previous scout experience and have shown their ability to lead boys.

Since Health and Safety are two subjects uppermost in the minds of those giving leadership to scout camps, periodic surveys are made of the camps, their sanitary facilities, their kitchens and their programs. Larger camps have hospitals with regular physicians in charge; in all camps there are men trained in medical care. Daily inspections are made not only of the scout's personal health but of diets, food preparations, cleanliness and sanitation.

Each boy is required to fill out a health history blank, certified to by his parents and family doctor, and is given a health examination before he is accepted as a camper. The procedure not only protects the scout but his fellow campers.

Summer camps afford abundant opportunities for Scouts to become more proficient in scoutcraft and progress to higher scout ranks. Nearly every camp has its museum, many of which are the summer homes of small animal life.

All Boy Scout camps arrange for a boy's fulfillment of his religious duties. The twelfth point of the scout law says, "A Scout is Reverent" and goes on to explain that he is "Reverent to God." He is faithful in his religious duties and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion.

Emphasis is placed, nationally, on troop camping within the council camp, because it recognizes and strengthens the troop as a unit, enables more troop leaders to camp with their boys and take an active part in the camp program; trains individual scouts in troop leadership by the scout method of "learning by doing" and results in a greater camping experience by more boys from each troop.

Through these troop camps the local scout officials are enabled to observe closely the methods and leadership ability displayed by each troop under ideal scouting conditions.

CAMPING POPULAR WITH BOY SCOUTS THIS SUMMER

Local Boys to Attend Camp Salmen at Slidell, La.—Camp Life Beneficial To All Boys.

Nearly a half million boys will enjoy camping experiences in Boy Scout Camps this summer, according to the National Camping Service of the Boy Scouts of America. For most scouts it will be training for the first National Scout Jamboree to be held in Washington, D. C., late in June and early in July 1937.

Each year Boy Scouts of Louisiana and Mississippi at Camp Salmen, about 3 miles north of Slidell, La., plans are now on foot to have as many boys as possible attend camp from this section.

Camping has been one of the principal year-round activities of the Boy Scouts of America since its inception in 1910. There are some 542 permanent summer camps maintained by the local Boy Scout councils. These camps occupy a total area of more than 54,000 acres that stretch along the Rocky Mountain National Park. In addition there are hundreds of temporary camp sites offered through the generosity of private owners or on permits from state, county and national park officials.

Swimming is conducted under the supervision of experts at the scout camps throughout the nation. Non-swimmers are taught in shallow water and usually they have become proficient in swimming before leaving camp. Last summer 16,290 scouts were taught to swim in council camps alone, bringing the total in the past twelve years to 216,038 taught in council summer camps.

Each boy is required to fill out a health history blank, certified to by his parents and family doctor, and is given a health examination before he is accepted as a camper. The procedure not only protects the scout but his fellow campers.

Summer camps afford abundant opportunities for Scouts to become more proficient in scoutcraft and progress to higher scout ranks. Nearly every camp has its museum, many of which are the summer homes of small animal life.

All Boy Scout camps arrange for a boy's fulfillment of his religious duties. The twelfth point of the scout law says, "A Scout is Reverent" and goes on to explain that he is "Reverent to God." He is faithful in his religious duties and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion.

Emphasis is placed, nationally, on troop camping within the council camp, because it recognizes and strengthens the troop as a unit, enables more troop leaders to camp with their boys and take an active part in the camp program; trains individual scouts in troop leadership by the scout method of "learning by doing" and results in a greater camping experience by more boys from each troop.

Through these troop camps the local scout officials are enabled to observe closely the methods and leadership ability displayed by each troop under ideal scouting conditions.

4-H CLUBS TO MAKE NATION-WIDE STUDY OF LEISURE TIME USE

Boys and Girls Learn Arts of Life Saving, Fire Prevention, Etc.

A nation-wide study to improve rural and small town social and recreational life is to be a major activity of 4-H local leaders and members in the next few months. The program seeks to discover the best ways by which the youth of a community may use its leisure time and thus offset tendencies common today which are destructive to the development of the finest manhood and womanhood.

Guides for the study are being distributed to 75,000 state, county and local club leaders of the United States by the National Committee on Boys and Girls club work which is launching the project, and has secured for its sponsorship the Radio Corporation of America and affiliates, National Broadcasting Company and RCA Victor, which provide prizes valued at approximately $17,000 to successful contestants.

Blank Forms Supplied

The guide is in the form of a report blank and calls for information on such activities of 4-H clubs as contests and personal growth opportunities as indicated by school records, reading habits, music participation and use of radio, church and secular programs. Other desired data is on picnics, camps, tours, public entertainments, discussion groups and community enterprises like park and playground development, libraries, fire prevention and cooperation in local fairs. Conservation and social service in all of their aspects which information is desired.

Reports of local clubs are to be completed and filed with county extension agents for the selection of a county champion club early in October. The records of the county winning clubs are to be submitted to the State Club leader in time for the selection of a state champion club by November 9. State reports in each of the four extension divisions of the United States will be judged to choose a winner therein, and one of these four will be named national champion club.

County winning clubs each receive a handsome year book to record its activities. The leader of each county champion club receives a gold medal, and its respective county extension office a silver plaque. The state winning club receives a library of 120 Victor records selected for recreational use and an RCA Victor record player. The leader of the club receives a $100 RCA fully equipped radio set.

Includes 44 Chicago Trips

To each member of the four regional winning clubs up to ten members and their leaders is awarded an all-expense educational trip to the fifteenth National Club Congress to be held in Chicago November 27-December 5 in connection with the International Livestock Exposition.

The members of the national champion club receives a gold medal, and to their county goes a combination RCA radio-phonograph and 461 selected Victor records valued at $1550. Two $500 college scholarships complete the prize list which are to be awarded to a boy and a girl participating in the contest who best typify the objectives of 4-H clubs. The scholarships are to be presented in June 1937 in Radio City, N. Y. by Mr. David Sarnoff, President of Radio Corporation of America, who also provides a trip for each recipient and champion.

No fee or obligation of any kind is required of contesting clubs and leaders and they are permitted to enlist the aid of local representatives of the sponsor as well as individuals and organizations in compiling reports.

I WANDERED

I wandered down the winding hill,
In evening's softest glow;
The cares of day vanished at will,
Flying with winds that blow.

The sky was bathed in sunset's dyes,
Colors no hand could draw;
Beauty in earth, in hill and skies,
That filled the soul with awe.

I wandered in this scene quite long,
Reluctantly to leave;
Nature whispered God's good song,
For me in dreams to weave.

CAPRA'S "MR. DEEDS" TO BE SHOWN AT A & G OF LEISURE TIME USE

Boys and Girls Learn Arts of Life Saving, Fire Prevention, Etc.

Frank Capra is coming to town. Well, not actually, though one of his productions, always eagerly awaited, is scheduled Sunday and Monday at the A. & G. Theater. It's title is "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," and it stands a very good chance, according to reports that have preceded it, of rivaling "It Happened One Night," which Capra also directed for Columbia Pictures.

To the extraordinary array of star names, including Clark Gable, Claudette Colbert, Warner Baxter, Myrna Loy, May Robson, Walter Connolly, and, earlier, Barbara Stanwyck, over whom this director has exercised his magic touch, must be added those of Gary Cooper and Jean Arthur, who are seen in the leading roles of "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town."

All-Star Supporting Cast

Also present and, probably going out of their way to please the meticulous Capra, are such players as George Bancroft, making his second screen appearance after a prolonged absence; Lionel Stander, raspy-voiced comic who was seen lately in "If You Could Only Cook" and "The Music Goes Round"; Douglass Dumbrille, villain extraordinary; Raymond Walburn, whom Capra brought to the fore in "Broadway Bill"; Mme. Margaret Matzenauer, the famous opera star; H. B. Warner; Warren Hymer, and many others of like calibre.

$20,000,000 Fun Fest

Gary Cooper, one of Hollywood's top ranking male stars, is seen in the role of Longfellow Deeds, a simple, small-town boy with, nevertheless, lots of common sense, who inherits the tidy sum of $20,000,000 from an eccentric uncle. His descent upon New York City is the signal for newspapers and grafters to come snapping at his heels. He outwits the chiselers by the mere expedient of using his old-fashioned horse-sense.

Robert Riskin, faithful associate of Capra through his series of successful films, prepared the screen play of "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town." The story itself came from the pen of Clarence Budington Kelland, who is one of the movie's favorite authors. It will be interesting to see the first Frank Capra-directed film Columbia has issued in more than a year.

Celebrate Twentieth Anniversary of Farm Loan System This Week

Observing this week the 20-year anniversary of the passing of the Farm Loan Act of 1916, which marked the beginning of cooperative credit in the United States, Mr. Edward B. Green, President of the Federal Land Bank of New Orleans announced that the outstanding amount of Federal land bank loans in Hancock county increased from $15,350 in May 1933, when the Farm Credit Administration was organized, to $23,500, the face amount of land bank and Land Bank Commission loans outstanding at the beginning of 1936.

"This large advance in the amount of loans outstanding has made very little, if any, increase in the total overhead indebtedness of Hancock county farmers," said Mr. Green, since farmers used about nine out of every ten dollars borrowed to pay off already existing debts owed to banks, insurance companies, merchants, and other concerns and individuals.

"Since the Farm Credit Administration undertook to reopen the channels of agricultural credit," continued Mr. Green, "the outstanding amount of loans in Mississippi have increased greatly. Within the past three years of its operation, farm foreclosure sales, which had increased to the highest rates on record during the depression have been cut in half."

"The Farm Credit Administration has reduced directly the interest rates of one in every three farmers with mortgages, and out of every $3 of interest the average farmer paid before refinancing, he now pays only $2 and keeps the other in his own pocket. The total interest saving to Mississippi farmers as a result of refinancing amounts to thousands of dollars a year."
